

Completely eliminating the Morse code requirement for access to HF would be a mistake. It should be retained at least for the Extra Class license. It is a skill that would gain the operator extra privileges and maintain a century of tradition.